BELOVED CITIZEN OF COLEMAN PASSES

The person of Mrs. Frank G. Graham, death on Thursday last moved away one of the best known and highly respected citizens of The Pass at Coleman.

Mrs. Graham had been ailing but a few days and had just two days previously returned from visiting her father, who was seriously ill at Nelson, B.C.

She was in her fifty-eighth year and is survived by her husband, four sons and one daughter. The sons are, Arthur, Frank and George at Coleman; Charles, at Lacombe; and daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Machin, at Lethbridge, all of whom were present for the funeral, which took place on Sunday afternoon, when the remains were laid to rest in the Blairmore cemetery, beside those of two of her children.

With the bereaved ones we extend sympathy.

COLEMAN MINERS

PETITION C.P.R.

The following resolution has been forwarded by the Coleman Local of the Mine Workers' Union of Canada to President Beatty of the C.P.R.

"Whereas, the period of time worked by the coal miners of the Crow's Nest Pass mining district of Alberta is yearly becoming less though each year a larger tonnage of coal is produced; and, whereas, it has been the practice of the coal mining companies to employ many hundreds of transient miners for a few months of the year to meet the orders for storage coal required by the Canadian Pacific Railway from this district, with the result that those workmen employed in the mining industry permanently are not able to obtain sufficient work during the balance of the year to secure a living for themselves and their families, causing the expenditure of much money by the provincial government, municipal councils and the trade unions for relief purposes:

"Therefore be it resolved, that representation be made to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, on whose railway system 90 per cent of the coal production from the said mining district is used, asking this company to so regulate their orders for coal that the production may be spread over a longer period of the year, thus enabling those persons permanently required to man the industry throughout the year to obtain a livelihood without further having to seek relief from various sources; and, failing satisfactory adjustment along lines suggested, the Federal and provincial governments be requested to institute a measure of control within the industry, through the appointment of a body similar to the present Railway Commission, under whose direction such mismanagement shall be corrected."

In "The Sophomore" you'll get your fill of laughter when you see and hear Eddie Quillan, Sally O'Neill and Jeanette Loff in this exquisite all-talking, all-singing, all-appealing screen romance. All the tragedy, thrills and humor in the life of the average college lad are embraced in this smashing story—the best dialogue picture of the season. Bigger than "The Freshman." At Cole's theatre this week end.

ELKS' FIFTH BIRTHDAY PARTY HUGE SUCCESS

One of the most successful and enjoyable social functions of the year was the fifth birthday party of the local Elks' lodge, held in the Moose Hall on Tuesday night.

Large numbers of members of the order, together with their wives or lady friends, gathered at 8 o'clock, when eleven tables were occupied at whist. Eighteen hands were played, the winners being: ladies' first, Mrs. Fred McKay; second, Mrs. J. E. Gillis; consolation, Mrs. W. W. Scott. Gents' first, Mr. J. White; second, Mr. A. Veljura; consolation, Mr. W. Howe. Prizes were awarded, a substitution being made to Mrs. McKay for the ladies' first prize, which will be the beautiful hand-worked underarm bag, made and presented by Bro. M. Pruden at Fitzsimmons, Colorado. This gift of Bro. Pruden's failed to reach Blairmore in time for the party, owing to "Merv," through lagging, being unable to complete it in time.

Supper was served in excellent style by Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Paul, assisted by the Misses Gray, Thompson, Royle and others as waitresses.

As all had gathered round the beautifully laden tables, the blessing was asked by "Father" Kelly. After supper, the beautiful birthday cake was sliced by Mrs. J. A. Kerr, wife of the presiding elected ruler of the lodge.

It was now "the hour of eleven, when all Elks cease from their labors, etc.," at which point Bro. Rod McLeod delivered the "Elks' Eleven o'Clock Toast."

Tables were cleared away and dancing was indulged in till the wee hours of morning to splendid music furnished by the Alternatt orchestra.

Every business house in the Crow's Nest Pass should be represented in the Christmas greeting pages of The Blairmore Enterprise to be published on December 21st. There is no more economic means of extending your best wishes to all your friends, and besides, they will be looking for your greeting.

A STORY OF THE NEW- FOUNDLAND EARTHQUAKE

Not in the memory of the present generation has Newfoundland undergone the experience of Monday evenings when the hills were shaken by the tremors of an earthquake. At Curling the first tremor, which was very slight, was felt at five o'clock. Seven minutes later a more severe one was felt, which had a duration of fifty seconds, and was accompanied by a noise somewhat similar to that of a fast speeding motor. People situated along the line of railway at first thought the noise and tremors were caused by a passing train, but there was no train in the vicinity. Not having had a previous experience of the kind, some seconds passed before they realized just what was happening. In some houses windows were broken, dishes rattled, and in one house a girl sitting at a piano was startled when the instrument began to dance. Sitting at our desk the sensation was as though all the machinery in our mechanical department had been suddenly put in motion at a racing speed. We learn the quake was generally felt throughout the country, but owing to interruption in the telegraph lines we have been unable to get any details up to press time.

On our Corner Brook page are some particulars obtained by radio which show that the tremors were felt throughout the New England states and Nova Scotia, Newfoundland and Western Star.

NOTE—Curling is about 150 miles from the stricken Burin peninsula, where twenty-odd lives were lost.

SYNOPSIS

Al Stone, singing waiter at Blackie Joe's New York night club, is loved by Grace Farrell, the cigarette girl, but he doesn't know it. He marries Molly Winton, a ballad singer, and wins fame as a composer of popular songs. When their baby, Junior, is about two years old, Molly elopes with John Terry, Al's best friend. She and Perry take the child. Al suffers and calls for Grace. Al, completely broken by the loss, disappears from Broadway and becomes a derelict. One day Grace Farrell sees him on the street, but he runs away. Grace starts a search for him, which ends in failure. But the image of Grace remains vividly in Al's mind.

CHAPTER XXIII

Something of Al's old generous spirit toward Grace returned as he thought of her. How concerned her expression had been yesterday as she stared at him from across the street. Yet his feeling toward her was not strong enough to overcome the reluctance of his desire to separate himself from the old life.

In spite of all that, however, the memory of her face remained in his mind. Perhaps it was this memory that brought him up sharply about three o'clock one morning before a house that seemed strangely familiar. Surely he knew these outside steps and that entrance. It was Blackie Joe's place.

Slowly, scarcely knowing what he was doing, Al mounted the shabby stairs toward the little gleam of light he saw at the top. Yes, he was sure of the place now; an intense longing possessed him to see the inside of the old familiar place where he had spent his earliest triumphs. Only a few years had passed since then, he had gone to the place, but the time seemed like a century.

He stopped before the heavy, bolted door. It was a new door, much stronger than the one Al had known. The many trials of the "Fighting" agents had forced Blackie to take additional precautions; his place was better guarded now.

Al knocked against the panel set high in the door and presently it opened. A strange face gazed at him, and the eyes behind more suspicious every moment, as their owner looked him up and down, noting his dilapidated clothes.

"Is Blackie Joe here?"

"Who wants to know?" asked the guard curiously.

"I do, I know him."

There was a pause, then: "G'wan, beat it! He's got no time for the likes of you!"

The panel closed with a slam. Al, nodding listlessly, began to descend the stairs. He shrugged his shoulders—it didn't matter.

Inside, Blackie had been standing fairly near the door. "Who wants me?" he called, after the aperture was closed.

"Oh, just some bum," said the door-keeper scornfully.

Blackie nodded and turned to look over his dance floor. But as he did so there was a faint stir of curiosity in his mind. A hum—well, what did the bum want?

He walked over to the door and pulled open the panel. At the foot of the stairs, clearly silhouetted against the light, he saw a familiar face.

At first Blackie did not recognize the figure at the foot of the night club stairs as Al Stone, his old singing waiter. But the familiarity of the profile was striking enough to make Blackie throw open the door and call, "Hey—your!"

At that, Al turned, so that his face was illuminated by the light at the head of the stairs. Now Blackie was sure—he came rushing down the stairs to wrap Al's hand.

"Rightly there, kid!" Blackie almost shouted in his delight. "We've been wondering where you were. And to think—I almost let you get away!"

Al stared into the face of his former boss, smiling faintly. It seemed as if Blackie would never relinquish that vigorous grip on his hand. A thrill of pleasure shot through Al—it was good to see someone at last who was really glad to see him, who beamed on him in the most friendly way imaginable. That hadn't happened at Al for months. He planned away to hide his embarrassment at his shabby appearance.

Then Blackie linked his strong arm with Al's and led the young song-writer up the stairs, talking as he went.

"I know, Al, this is a big moment for us! I want you to come in and meet the performers—some of them you know, and Grace is still with us—you remember her."

Al nodded, but said nothing. Blackie saw he was dealing with a man who was not only bewildered, but had definitely lost his gift for carrying on in the battle of life. The arm inside Al's coat sleeve was limp.

As they stepped inside the door-keeper stared in amazement, to see his well-dressed employer walking arm-in-arm with this bum. What on earth did it mean?

It was well on toward daylight and only a few customers remained in the main dining-and-dancing room.

"Come back to my office," suggested Blackie. "We'll have a good talk."

But Al, stopped, scanning the familiar room as if he expected to find the ghosts of his former triumphs there. His eyes took on the look of concentration that is habitual with men who try to escape the world and commune only with themselves. He forgot that Blackie was standing beside him, looking solicitously into his face.

"Yes, there was the table where Molly and Marcus and the others sat on the night he sang 'Always' to Molly. There was the old door leading to the bar. The floor show had ended, but the orchestra was playing and a few couples were dancing."

"Come," repeated Blackie, and Al followed him toward the private office.

They sat down, facing each other. "Have a cigar, have a drink?" suggested the night club owner, but Al shook his head. Then Blackie began again:

"Now, boy, I wish you'd tell me all about it. What happened to you—where have you been hiding out these months?"

"Oh, here and there—just wandering about," Al replied noncommittally.

"Yes, I know that. But do you know that Marcus has been after you? And a couple of song publishers have been paying you all over town?"

"Yes, I know it, came the strangely passive answer. 'I'm not interested in all that. I told Marcus I was through and I meant it. I really don't know why I came here tonight—just happened to look up and saw your entrance. Couldn't stay away from the old place forever, I guess.'"

A hopeless feeling stole over

Blackie. This was just the shell of the old Al; Blackie felt how strong that apparently listless resistance of his would be to any come-back. Nevertheless, he leaned forward and said earnestly:

"Al, you don't have to tell me how you feel—I know. It may seem strange to you, but I was knocked out once myself, in the same way, by a woman. For a while I thought there was no use living; then the day came when someone gave me a good stiff talking to. I decided to fight my way up again, and I did. I decided I wouldn't let one blow put me down for the count."

"Blackie, the reformer," murmured Al. An expression somewhere between a smile and a sneer curved the corners of his mouth.

Blackie leaned back in his chair, hurt, but determined not to show it. In the old days Al could never have made a sardonic and bitter rejoinder like that.

"Do you still love Molly?" Blackie asked incredulously.

"No!" The sharp denial was the first show of life Al had had since Blackie nodded in approval. Then Al seemed to think that some further explanation was needed. "She'd for me and first I had to clear her out of my mind. I did that—I tried to forget her. But I found I couldn't get interested. It was no use."

Just then a waiter stuck his head in the door and told Blackie a customer wanted to speak to him. Blackie rose.

Workers Helped By Science

One Detector Located New Body and Furnished Work For Discharged Miners

The practical ways in which science helps working people is demonstrated again in England. A lead mine in Derbyshire had "petered out." Two young schoolmasters invented an ore detector, just about the time a hundred miners had been discharged. With the detector they located a new lead-ore body, 1,000 feet under the surface. They figured it was worth about $250,000. The mine owners, having faith in science, put the miners back to work again, located the ore body through a tunnel and now the mine is working full blast. Politicians continually promise miracles to help working folk. Science performs the miracles.—Vancouver Sun.

Old Eskimo Culture

Thousands of Wonderful Specimens Found in Northern Alaska

Another chapter in present-day knowledge of a "golden age" of Eskimo culture, more than a thousand years old but newly discovered, has been added by Henry B. Collins, Jr., Smithsonian scientist, on his return from a five-month exploration of Northern Alaska. Buried in an artificial "mound" of refuse, but up 20 feet in the centuries of existence of a thriving village in the south east end of St. Lawrence Island, he found rich material of the most ancient and highly developed Eskimo culture known.

"Thousands of specimens of ivory and bone implements, weapons, ornaments, pottery, and wooden artifacts were also found. Centuries ago a village had been reared on the flat sands of the beach, he said, and as kitchen refuse accumulated, old dwellings were abandoned and new ones raised on the artificial foundation. How long the process kept on, no one knows. The "mound," now from solidly for its total depth, grew higher until, in 1875 and 1876, famine and epidemic wiped out the native population.

Through the 20-foot layer the scientist traced the old culture, an art discovered in 1826 by Dr. Alex. H. H. Smith, noted Smithsonian anthropologist, and Diamond Jenness, of the National Museum of Canada.

Impregnable and ornaments are distinguished by graceful, sweeping lines of decoration, an art that makes modern Eskimo work mechanical in comparison. Some objects are so old that their use is unknown in the present-day native. "It is a peculiar and rich culture," Collins said, "strange because the farther back we drive, the richer it gets. Modern Eskimo art, in contrast, is in a degenerated state."

Collins' statement suggests strongly that the original home of all Eskimo culture lies in the west, in Alaska or northeastern Siberia. The culture is distinctly older than the oldest found in Canada and Greenland, a statement that "two are after the illuminate origin of the ancient art. There is no explanation for its fading out, except perhaps the introduction of the use of iron, with which the later and more mechanical ornamentation has been fashioned."

Some Human Ostriches

People Have Earned Living By Swallowing All Kinds Of Articles

There are on record amazing feats of people who can swallow almost anything with absolute impunity, who try to it, make a meal of it, and some who even earn a livelihood by it.

A Stratford, England, telegraph operator died some years ago in the Essex County Lunatic Asylum from asphyxia. He had swallowed stones, grass, leaves, wood, and scrap-iron.

Even more voracious was the individual who died at the London Hospital at a later date, and who gloried in the title of "The Champion Ostrich."

He had in him forty pieces of cork, thirty pieces of tin foil, nine pennies, one iron ring, three pieces of leather, a leather strap, 9 inches long, 12 inches of string, with bits of cork attached, and an immense quantity of odd lengths of string, cotton, and paper. Another human ostrich made his stomach a veritable dust-bin, by consuming over two pounds of broken lamp chimneys, nails, tacks, screws, and tumbler.

Could Well Believe It
An old lady, up from the country, stood in a busy thoroughfare, looking at the ceaseless stream of traffic, then at the notice, "Pedestrians cross here."

"Humph!" she was heard to mutter. "I shouldn't blame 'em if they were 'Mowright' boys."

She: "What would you do if I should cry?"
He: "Hang out a sign, 'Wet Paint.'"

Minnard's Liniment relieves stiffness.

Long Lived War Leaders

Four Who Bore Heavy Burdens Have Become Octogenarians

For months before his death Stresemann was a man broken in health, anxiously watched by relatives, friends and physicians, kept to a rigid diet, sent to bed early—he was an invalid, indeed, ere he had reached his eightieth birthday. Hindenburg, on the other hand, celebrated his eighty-second birthday, which fell on the day before Stresemann died, by going on a hunting trip, which was cut short by the Minister's death.

Ten years of peace killed Gustav Stresemann; three wars—one the most terrible in history, in which he was the supreme leader on one side, have proved insufficient to lay Paul von Hindenburg low. Can it be that we have heard far too much about the terms of war, far too little about those of peace? It would seem so—at least in so far as the longevity of war leaders is concerned.

Today, fifteen years after the outbreak of the World War, and eleven years since its close, there are four men who can proudly boast that, despite having borne heavy burdens of leadership between 1914 and 1918, they have nevertheless become octogenarians. Hindenburg is one of the others, two are military men, Joffre and Mackensen—and the other a civilian who was at the head of his country's war-time government at a time of acute crisis—Georges Clemenceau.

Certain morbid conditions must exist in the stomach and intestines to encourage worms, and they exist as long as the morbid conditions permit them to. To be rid of them and spare the child suffering, use Miller's Worm Powders. They will correct the digestive irregularities by destroying the worms, conditions favorable to worms will disappear, and the child will have no more suffering from that cause.

Using Steam From Volcano

Steam issuing from fissures in the earth near the main crater of Mount Etna will be used this winter to supply the central heating plant of the volcanological observatory on the higher slopes of the mountain. Professor Gaetano Ponte, director of the Etna observatory, said.

THAT'S why modern mothers prefer Vicks—its cannot upset delicate stomachs. Rubbed on throat and chest, it acts two ways at once:

(2) It "draws out" the soreness like an old-fashioned poultice.

Little Helps For This Week

"Thou also shalt seek strength."—Nahum III, 11.

We ask not that our path be always bright,
But for Thine aid to walk therein
That Thou, Lord, through all its devious way
Will give us strength sufficient to our day.

For this we pray.

If thou look to thyself, thou shalt be able of thyself to accomplish nothing. But if thou trust in the Lord, strength shall be given thee from Heaven, and the world and the flesh shall be made subject to thy command.—Thomas A. Kempis.

Should we feel at times disheartened and discouraged, a comforting thought, a simple movement of the heart towards God, will renew our powers. Whatever He may demand of us, He will give us at the moment the strength and courage that we need.—Fenelon.

WHEN WOMEN SHOP

Some very interesting observations were made recently in London by C. B. Pinnell, advertising manager of one of the largest stores in the metropolis. This authority finds the average woman shopper amazingly fond of window-shopping, a very careful spender—except where hats are concerned—and an exceptionally keen judge of value.

The woman of twenty dresses for show, Mr. Pinnell thinks, and the woman of forty dresses for comfort. There are two classes of women shoppers—the woman who knows exactly what she wants and goes into a store and asks for it; and the woman who wants something, but has no idea what, and just waits for the assistant to make up her mind for her. Undoubtedly, he thinks, women are more difficult to serve than men. A woman generally has only a certain amount of money, and with it she has to buy everything for herself and her house. Therefore she is out to get as much as she can for her money, except when she is buying a hat. She buys a hat because she thinks it suits her and the price is a secondary matter.

Mr. Pinnell also paid a rare compliment to the modern woman's knowledge of values. The woman shopper of today, he says, knows the value of a piece of material almost as well as the expert storekeepers themselves. As for the business of window-shopping, he thinks women will never tire of it. And most of the mere men of our acquaintance will agree with him.

TITLES AND WEALTH AMONG LABORITES

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Of the 200 Laborite members of the House of Commons few indeed can claim to have come from the hard laboring classes they represent.

On the contrary, titles, wealth and the professions are well represented in the ranks of the Labor members of Parliament.

Among them are two baronets, a baronet's wife, who is also a margravine's daughter, two King's counsellors, one banker, three professors, five clergymen, two solicitors, four retired army officers, nine lecturers, fourteen teachers, one chemist, ten barristers, one land owner, one Salvation Army commissioner and two cartoonists.

IF DREAMS CAME TRUE

To dream of a funeral means happiness, riches and an advantageous marriage.

To dream that your mouth is stopped by a gag means that you will soon be kissed by a pretty girl. To a young girl it means an engagement.

To dream of geese means profit and pleasure.

To dream you are sitting at a writing-desk means that you will marry a smart and clever lawyer.

To dream of walling indicates a speedy and happy marriage.

To dream of tears denotes pleasure and happiness.

If a young man dreams of admiring a pretty girl, it means that he will marry a simpleton.

To dream that you are delivering an oration is a sign of promotion.

To dream that you hear an organ play denotes coming good news.

CORBIN COAL PROPERTIES HAVE CHANGED HANDS

Announcement is made that the property of Corbin Coals, Limited, at Corbin, have been sold to Sherywood Lett, a Vancouver barrister, for a consideration of $969,007.

The sale was ordered at the suit of F. J. Kommers and C. J. Paine, of Spokane, trustees for holders of debentures totalling $886,000. Action was instituted following default by the company in payment of interests on October 1st. The total amount of the purchase price was paid in cash.

G. G. COOTE, M.P., TO ADDRESS PASS MEETINGS

As we go to press we learn that through the instrumentality of the Pass locals of the Mine Workers of Canada, it has been arranged that public meetings will be held at Bellevue, Coleman, Blairmore on the nights of December 9th, 10th and 11th, respectively, to be addressed by G. G. Coote, M.P., and others.

At these meetings Mr. Coote will deal with matters affecting this part of his constituency and will outline the result of his representation at Ottawa and matters in general as being handled at the federal headquarters of administration.

The public are asked to bear these meetings in mind and to turn out every one to hear their representative.

The superintendent of the Sunday-school was bubbling with enthusiasm at the regular attendance of his pupils. "Dear children," he announced, "now today out of the whole school only one of us is absent—little Maggie. Let us hope that she is ill."

THIRTY YEARS AGO

We put our shirts on over our heads. Nobody wore a wrist watch. Women didn't vote. Neither did they smoke. Nobody sat up till 2 a.m. listening to the radio. Anybody could hitch up a horse. A five-cent cigar was a cigar. A woman was a surprise package instead of a free show. Automobiles were a novelty. Airplanes just weren't. Moonshine stills were confined to the hills of the South—now they are to take advice.

Get Acquainted

The fellow you hate away down in your heart, The chap that you think you despise, Might prove in the end the best kind of friend, If you would just open your eyes. You see but his shell, his heart you must find, And be introduced to his soul, Get acquainted, old chap, you may yearn, mayhap, That he's honest and earnest and whole The fellow you hate for no reason on earth May be a lot finer than you. Go out of your way and some pleasant word say, And the real man you'll see shining through. Though something about him rubs on the raw, It will pass when you take his right hand. If you try to be kind, I'll bet you will find After all, he's a regular man.

January 13th to 17th are the dates set for the annual Crows' Nest bazaar, to be held in Blairmore. The biggest crowd on record is anticipated, and already parties from points between Medicine Hat and Cranbrook are booking hotel reservations.

One million dollars will be required to relieve distress and replace property damaged resulting from the recent earthquake in Newfoundland.

The After Dinner Speaker

The after dinner speaker Rose and cleared his throat, Said that he had brought along Not a single note.

Asked for critical indulgence With his "brief review," Said he had "a few remarks," Then he would be through.

From there he started talking, Talking of this and that, Talked of these and talked of those— Mostly through his hat.

"Our position, then is this—" "Others take the stand—" "Just while I'm on the subject—" "On the other hand—"

And so ad infinitum, His voice rings clear and strong, That's why I dread the speaker, Who brings no notes along.

Say It With Flowers

"Hello!" came from the telephone. "Is Rose there?" "No." "Violet there?" "No." "Is Lily there?" "Say, what do you think this is, a bloomin' conservatory?"

A man named Alex. Petruk, employed at the Bellevue mine was accidentally killed on Monday. The remains were laid to rest at Bellevue yesterday afternoon.

Harold Scott has been elected president of the Medicine Hat Amateur Hockey Association.

It Is Not Always Easy

To apologize, To begin over, To admit error, To be unselfish, To take advice, To be charitable, To be considerate, To keep on trying, To think and then act, To profit by mistakes, To forgive and forget, To shoulder a deserved blame, But it always pays.

Rev. Hills Wright, formerly of Pincher Creek, sustained injuries in an auto crash near Vancouver on Wednesday of last week.

A Calgary paper had it that "Red" Rostrum knocked out his opponent after two hours and twenty-minutes fighting in the second round. Thought those rounds were to be three-minutes.

At the annual meeting of the Blairmore Curling Club on Monday night, the following officers were elected: Milt Congdon, president; Harry Blake, vice-president; E. A. Harper, secretary-treasurer; the above and J. B. Wilson, L. L. Morgan, C. C. Millar, Sergt. Jones and P. C. Montalbetti; to form the executive. Fees for the season will be, gents $12, ladies $4.

"Red" Rostrum, well known in Blairmore circles, who accidentally knocked out a chap in an amateur boxing bout at Calgary last week, has entered pro-boxing. To accommodate the wild Dane, elastic ropes are being installed around the Calgary ring, to permit "Red" hitting both going and coming. Provision should also be made to make his final fall easy on his system, with a supply of cushions.

The recent earthquake, which caused loss of life on the Newfoundland coast and property damage both in Newfoundland and along the New England coast and Nova Scotia, was of sufficient severity at Truro, N.S. to cause doors to be wrenched from their hinges and the contents of store shelves to be thrown to the floor. All over Newfoundland, telephone poles swayed and furniture and other moveable objects were set dancing for four or five minutes.

An auction sale of horses will be conducted by W. T. Eddy, at Cowley on Saturday, December 7th, commencing at 10 a.m. The list includes: eight teams of black mares and geldings; a team of sorrels, four to six years; two teams of greys, and twenty head of mares and geldings from one to five years. First Office Boy: "Wotcher doin' lookin' at the office wot fired you last week? Tryin' to git took back?" Second Office Boy: "Naw; I jes' dropped round to see if they was still in bizness."

"Jargo, I've been thinkin'. Lawd, wick you said yest credit's all a matter o' mem'ry. Wha' did ye mean?" "Well, xlong as ye remember ye've got credit as ye don't pay; but if ye forgits, ye might pay unconscious' like."

"Ole" Olson, of Blairmore, in taking a knockout punch from Ernie Zurch, of Calgary, at Gleichen, last night, suffered a broken jaw. Zurch connected in the first round and Olson went down for the count—Drumheller Review.

Two new recruits were "talking shop." "What d'you think of the major, Sam?" asked Tom. "Changeable old bloke," said Sam. "Last night I says to 'im: 'Oo goes there?' and he says 'Friend' and today he 'ardly knows me'."

A meeting of the executive of the Crows' Nest Pass Hockey League will be held in the Greenhill hotel Friday night at 7.30 to draw up the schedule for the coming season. Representatives will be present from the four Pass teams, and from Lethbridge, the new entry in the League.

On Sunday afternoon next, December 1st, the local Elks' Lodge will observe their annual Memorial Service in their hall at 3 o'clock. Arrangements are being made to have special speakers and soloists and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin, of Blairmore, were guests on Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Neuman. Mr. and Mrs. Martin are leaving shortly to make their home in Pittsburgh, Pa. Mrs. Martin is well known throughout O.E.S. circles and in 1928 was an officer of the Grand Chapter of Alberta.

Negotiations which have been under way for some time to bring the Trail "Smokestacks" to Blairmore for two hockey games are about complete. The Trail team were last year's B.C. champions and were in the Allan Cup finals with Port Arthur at Winnipeg. The regular monthly meeting of the Retail Merchants Association will be held in the Elks' hall, Blairmore, on Wednesday, December 4th, at 7 p.m., instead of at 8 p.m. as formerly. Mr. Robinson, a special representative of the R.M.A., will be in the Pass for the first three days of the week preceding this meeting, and Mr. A. C. McKay, the provincial secretary of the Association, will be present to address the meeting on Wednesday night. As Mr. McKay is an excellent speaker and is in touch with all the retailers throughout the province, every merchant in this district should be on hand to hear him.

"Hyslop has decided to close out their branch business in Blairmore, on or about the end of the year, and elsewhere in this issue announce a huge closing-out sale.

St. Anne's bazaar went over with the usual bang yesterday, large crowds attending the tea and sale during the afternoon, and larger crowds attending the affair at night, when house-house and other added attractions were features. The draw for the tombola took place toward the close, some of the prizes as usual going to distant points. Bob Gray, however, happened to hold a ticket that entitled him to the mammoth total, and Bob is so pleased with his win that he has practically decided 't is hardly necessary to go home any more.

Ahoy For a Merry Christmas on the Bounding Main!

"At Christmas play and make good cheer. For Christmas comes but once a year."

—Thomas Tusser, 16th Century.
Many and varied are the circumstances under which we moderns must spend the joyous Yuletide season, with its holly, mistletoe and gifts. Time was when Christmas Eve signified happy family gatherings at some big country house or fine old city mansion, but times change, and now most of us must alter our customs accordingly. The modern city apartment and small country cottage preclude large gatherings, but it is still possible for big families to be together at Christmas time, for the Canadian Pacific Steamships has detailed the 20,000-ton S. S. Duchess of Bedford to make a 10-day Christmas-New Year's cruise to the West Indies, leaving New York December 23, 1929. Thus families can not only be together when the Christmas bells ring out but they will find themselves en route to a warmer climate—the storied Caribbean Sea—famed for its tales of pirates and plunder in days of yore.

Incidentally, none of the hallowed traditions connected with the holiday season are forgotten, once the ship gets under way. Her public halls and rooms are tastefully decorated with greens; poinsettias and other appropriate plants are everywhere, and the ship's company seems imbued with the spirit of "Peace on earth—goodwill to men." Masquerade parties, big open drop-lights and Christmas trees complete the picture. Holiday voyagers aboard the "Duchess" will visit Havana, Cuba, the Paris of the New World; Kingston, Jamaica, at one time headquarters of notorious buccannery; Cristobal, Panama, formerly on the highway of Spanish treasure trains, now the site of the greatest canal in the world, and enchanting Nassau, in the Bahamas, returning to New York January 8, 1930.

Articles are already appearing in daily papers on how to conquer "autumn depression." They follow quickly on tips for overcoming summer slowness. New Rolling Bars Younger Women From Canadian Senate

The Ottawa Evening Citizen says: "The happer vote is a very material factor now in Canada elections and much the larger portion of enfranchised women come from this class, but they are deterred from the Senate despite the decision of the Privy Council as to women's eligibility for senatorial office."

"Among the qualifications for the Upper House, it is found, is one prescribing that anyone appointed must be of the 'full age of thirty years.' This cuts out the really young woman. There is no such prohibition in the House where one of twenty-one can be seated, providing she can get elected."

Crossed River On Skis

Vienna Men Claim Speed Of Twelve Miles An Hour

A most amusing spectacle recently greeted the spectators on the London Embankment, when, without any warning, they suddenly came across two men, clad in bathing suits, attempting to cross the Thames by means of water skis. It did not take many minutes for a wondering crowd to collect, and then, urged on by cheers and laughter, the two men, Student Franz Hirsch and Professor Michael Xitter, both from Vienna, set off on their journey across the river and back.

The skis were made of basket-work frames, and covered with waterproof. The wearer carries a small paddle with which he propels himself along. Apparently they answer their purpose well, and the two swimmers claimed that they had achieved up to twelve miles per hour on the river Danube.

Washable Shoes

Cotton Footwear Said To Be More Comfortable Than Leather

It won't be long now until the ladies will take their shoes off, give them a few scrapes on the washboard and hang them out to dry.

Washable cotton shoes were among the most interesting exhibits at the fashion show of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers held in Boston, Mass.

The shoes in addition to being washable, will be much lighter and more comfortable than leather, exhibitors said. They are made of suede and suede-like materials, with fitted bodies and flaring heels.

Shrinking at either side of bodice through waistline creates a swathed effect that adds a soft finish without detracting from its molded line.

The deep pointed effect of bodice at lower edge gives length to figure. A jabot frill in pointed outline contributes further smartness placed so as to keep narrow shoulder line.

The neckline is collarless in smart V-neckline outline with bow at center-back. Long tight-fitting sleeves have frills inserted in darts.

Style No. 2974 designed in sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust will add chic femininity to your new wardrobe.

It is easily made and at a remarkable saving.

In black sheer velvet, it is perfectly adaptable. The edge of jabot frill of bodice and frills of sleeves can be picked for neat finish. No trimming required and only about two hours of your time. Think of it! Choose now!

In black crepe satin, the two surface can be nicely worked out. Carton crepe, silk crepe in tweed pattern, printed sheer velvet crepe de chine, and crepe Roma appropriate.

Tests For Air Pilots

Prospective Flier Has To Pass Rigid Examination Half-Yearly In States

Can you stand on one foot fifteen seconds, with your eyes closed and the other leg bent backward at the knee, and not fall? If so, and if your ears are healthy and your gait shows no disturbance, you have passed the equilibrium test given airplane pilots. The old whirling chair test has been discarded.

But that doesn't mean the prospective pilot's physical examination is ended. More than 700 physicians under the United States, under the direction of Dr. H. L. Bauer, of the Department of Commerce, are seeking to protect passengers against accident due to any physical defect on the part of the pilot.

First come the eyes, defects of which cause 75 per cent. of the rejections for unfitness. The pilot's eyes must have depth perception, for a flier constantly must judge distance in taking off and landing. Eye muscle co-ordination is necessary.

"Lack of co-ordination and the ability to maintain single vision," says Dr. Bauer, "is likely to cause fatigue. Fatigue causes headaches. Headaches cause inattention. Inattention causes carelessness."

Color vision is important, too, because the pilot must be able to recognize navigation lights and other signals. Shades of brown and green, and the ground indicator, the character of the terrain to be landed. A wide field of vision is essential because a pilot must be able to see objects out of the corner of his eye while looking straight ahead. Then general physical examination is thorough, with the nervous system, drawing special attention. After a pilot is once examined and passed, he is required to take physical examinations semi-annually.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON NOVEMBER 17

LIVING WITH PEOPLE OF OTHER RACES

Golden Text: "Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons; but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is acceptable to him." Acts 10:34, 35.
Lesson: Ruth 1:1-18; John 4:5-10; Acts 10:1-11:18; Romans 1:14; Galatians 2:28, 29.
Devotional Reading: Ephesians 3:14-21.

Explanations and Comments

Racial Prejudices Must Be Overcome, Acts 10:1-18.—There was a Roman centurion at Caesarea, Cornelius by name, a very devout man who feared God, and was generous with the poor. One day in a vision he seemed to hear an angel saying to him, "Thy prayers and thine alms have gone up for a memorial before God," and he sent to Joppa for a man named Peter. At once Cornelius sent two of his servants in search of Peter, who was on the seacoast thirty miles west of Jerusalem.

On the morning as the servants were approaching Joppa, Peter went up on the housetop to pray. He was hungry and wished to refresh his food to be prepared, he fell into a trance. In his trance Peter beheld a receptacle resembling a great sheet let down from heaven by its four corners, and in it all manner of four-footed beasts and creeping things and birds, and he heard a voice bidding him kill and eat. "Not so, Lord, I have never eaten anything that is common or unclean," Peter exclaimed, horrified. Peter had strictly observed the Levitical law which prescribed what animals could be eaten and how they should be slaughtered.

God to No Respecter of Persons, Acts 10:17-35.—While Peter was pondering the meaning of the vision, the messengers to the home of Cornelius arrived. Peter called them all and lodged them over night, putting at once into practice his understanding of the vision, for he was of another race, whom once he would have called unclean. The day following Peter went with the messengers to the home of Cornelius. He took the precaution to take with him six brethren, for he felt he was venturing into new things and he wanted witnesses. Caesarea was on the seacoast thirty miles from Joppa. On reaching there, he found Cornelius and many Gentile kinsmen and friends of the latter awaiting him. Cornelius said about the vision which had led him to send for the apostle, and added, "Now therefore stand up, for we are present in the sight of God, to hear all things that have been commanded thee of the Lord."

"And Peter opened his mouth and said: (these words indicate the solemnity of the occasion and the weightiness of Peter's message): 'God has no favorites, and he who reverences him and lives a good life in any nation is welcomed by Him.' Moffat's Translation.

Cultivate National Spirit

John Imrie Tells Easterners About Our Greatest Problem

"While we have many economic problems, our greatest problem is not economic but spiritual. It requires maintenance of a national outlook and a national spirit in the face of a geography that is a constant invitation to sectionalism," said John Imrie, managing director of the Dominion Journal, in an address at Halifax recently.

Mr. Imrie spoke on "Carving out a new Northwest," and declared the present movements to the north and west of Canada were much broader than previous immigration and settlement waves.

Referring to unemployment recommendations of the Duncan report, he said: "The rest of Canada owes it to the Maritimes to see that these recommendations are made effective."

A Unique Cricket Match
A cricket match between sides of 400 each—played in Samoa for a stake of 100 kegs of beer—lasted for three months and ended in a free fight. The teams represented two villages, which at the end of the three months were in a state of starvation because the men had neglected their families in favor of the game. Thus the free fight, in which several lives were lost.

Spectacles For Color Blind

Special Glass Absorbs Rays Troublesome To Such Persons

Spectacles through which a color-blind person can distinguish colors like people with normal eyes, are finally promised, at least for some varieties of color-blindness, by new glass materials perfected by Professor Franz Welsch, of the Technical College in Berlin. The materials resemble ordinary glass but contain the rare chemical elements neodymium and praseodymium. In thin sheets of lenses like those used in spectacles, the new glasses seem almost perfectly transparent. Examination with a spectroscopic discloses, however, that certain rays of the complete rainbow-colored strip into which white light is separated by that instrument are missing after the rays have passed through the new glass. The glasses absorb these rays, the particular ray which is absorbed differing for different chemical compositions of the new glass. The rays chiefly absorbed happen to be orange and yellow ones, the German physicist reports, standing in the spectrum between the red and the green, which are two of the colors most troublesome to color-blind individuals. The removal of these intermediate rays by the new glasses acts, it is found, to increase the apparent contrast between red and green so that spectacles of the new glasses are expected to make the distinction of those two colors easier for people who are color-blind.

Exact Distance Important

Astronomers Must Know How Far Away Sun Is

The distance of the sun is to be measured through work at the University of Cincinnati in cooperation with the Royal Observatory of Berlin. The latest computation, accepted by astronomers fixes the mileage at 92,900,000, believed to be within 50,000 miles of the exact distance.

Why bother about fifty thousand miles?

"Because," answers Dr. Jermann G. Porter, director of the Cincinnati Observatory, "most important of all the problems presented by astronomy is that of finding how far away the sun is. For this distance is our measuring rod by which we determine the exact extent, not only of the solar system, but of the vast outlying universe as well."

Astronomers use a planet as a stepping stone to help them reach out toward the sun's exact position. They get a measurement of the distance to a nearby planet, and use that as an aid. In the present case, Mars, Eros, the latest planet discovered, found only a few years ago, but 14,000,000 miles away from the earth is the stepping stone. At the beginning of 1931 it will be in an extremely favorable position for the solar work. Meanwhile, several years of preparation are necessary.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Fred Snyder has taken up residence over the Cowley post office for the winter.

Charles Farrant and daughter have moved into the George Dwyer house, a mile out of town.

Miss Doris McEwen who has been ill in the Hillcrest hospital for the past few weeks, is improved in health to such an extent that she was removed to her home here on Sunday.

The Maconic hall, which has been under construction for the past couple of months, is now completed. The lower part of the building, which will be used as a restaurant, will be in full running operation in the course of a few days. This will be a great accommodation to the general public, as there has been no public eating place here since the fire which occurred on February the 20th last.

Robert Littleton, who has been doing some trapping in this district for a few years, on going over his trap line on the morning of the 24th, found a silver fox in one of his traps, which had been set on the old Gobal ranch. The fox was a splendid specimen. It had been in the trap, caught by a fore foot, for a few days and had done quite a bit of pawing during a drifting snow storm. It was still alive when found.

On Friday night a miscellaneous sale and what drive was held in the L.O.O.F. hall under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary. There were twelve tables of whist at play. Prizes were won in the following order: ladies' first, Miss Nellie Musgrave; gents' first, Mr. Charles Farrant; while the consolations were awarded to Mrs. Black and Mr. Bruce Bouthiller. Around thirty-two dollars was added to the Asstican church fund here. A very enjoyable evening is reported.

The annual dance of the Crows' Nest Golf and Country Club, held at the Greenhill Grill on Friday night last, was largely attended and most enjoyable.

BEAT THEM TO IT

The Christmas season will soon be upon us with all its joy of buying for the loved ones. It is one of the big buying seasons of the year.

All the big catalogue houses are alive to this fact and will, within the next week or so, flood the country with their catalogues of "inviting" offers.

There is only one way in which the local merchant can hope to combat this and that is by telling your customers what you have to offer, in plain, simple convincing language.

Make your store attractive, and when your customers call, see to it that you make them welcome and give them that service that will make them want to come back again.

If you do not tell them what you have to sell, how can you expect them to come.

Solving Canada's Economic Problems

A country possessed of the vast extent and great variety of natural resources which stretch east and west across Canada from sea to sea, and north and south from the international boundary line to the Pole, has a responsibility not only to its own people but to the world at large. The heritage with which nature has endowed the Canadian people is one of the richest, if indeed not the richest, on this globe. It consists of some of the greatest fisheries in the world, the greatest forests, the greatest waterways, tens of millions of acres of the most fertile agricultural lands, while hidden below the surface and in the rocks lies what is now being recognized as probably the world's greatest store of mineral wealth—coal, iron, nickel, gold, silver, copper, zinc, tin, asbestos, and stores of other minerals required for the use of mankind.

Save, and except some of the more precious stones, and those things which are alone the product of tropical countries, Canada enjoys possession of practically everything needed to build up and maintain the great industries of this great future age. Possession of such a storehouse of wealth imposes a great responsibility on this Dominion, but it also presents a great opportunity.

How are the Canadian people developing these enormous reservoirs of potential wealth? What are they doing with them? While the country was still young, sparsely settled, and the people comparatively poor, the trees of the forests were cut down and shipped abroad as logs, rough sawn lumber and pulpwood. But now Canada is the largest paper-manufacturing country in the world, and the producer of much fine furniture.

For years Canada's great tonnage of nickel, copper and zinc ores was shipped to other lands to be refined and manufactured for use in industry; now huge refineries have been established in which these ores will be processed at home. While, owing to the low grade of the ore, Canada is still and will long continue to be a big exporter of wheat, this country has forged rapidly ahead in the industry of milling, sending the finest flour in ever increasing quantities into the markets of the world.

A similar story can be told of the development and use being made of other of our natural resources. There is, however, to consider. Some of Canada's mineral wealth is of low grade, and much of its value results from the fact of its enormous quantity, as, for example, the lignite coal of the west. So, too, the large iron deposits of Ontario are difficult and expensive to work for commercial use. But are we, for these reasons, to neglect them and abandon the wealth they might bring to Canada, and lose the benefits which might be developed there would come to the Dominion?

These very difficulties are a challenge to the people of Canada. They are a test as to our fitness to be entrusted with the heritage which is ours.

Up to the present time Canada has devoted too little attention to, and been too niggardly in its public expenditures, upon scientific research. Rather, as a people, we have been inclined to take the easier way and seek to protect our interests by artificial means, or been content to reap minor profits from the sale of raw products, rather than through scientific research and experimental expenditures find solutions to our problems and greater wealth for our country. Perhaps this was natural, even inevitable, in a young country. But that day is passed if Canada is to be true to itself.

The Dominion Government, the Ontario Government, several huge corporations, universities, and private individuals of wealth, are, in the aggregate, providing millions for research work; the most modern buildings and laboratories and the finest equipment are being provided. Already important results have been achieved. It is confidently believed that a type of rust-resistant wheat has been developed, while the National Research Council has demonstrated where science is greater than tariffs and trade commissions when it comes to developing trade. An Ottawa dispatch tells how it has re-established Canadian magnesite on the markets of the world.

Magnesite is used in furnaces or other places where great heat is required. It came originally from Austria, but the war gave Canada a chance and deposits in Quebec were developed. After the war Austria came back, deposits were found in California and the United States tariff shut Canada out of that market. Canada lost the business. The owners of the Quebec mines appealed to Ottawa, and the Government, declining to impose tariff protection, the National Research Council, the scientists of the Council developed new production methods and today Canadian magnesite has not only got its markets back but is beating the California product at a lower price, where it commands a higher price now because of its better quality.

A similar story can be told about a Saskatchewan clay-working plant. It was steadily losing money. From the Saskatchewan Government stepped in, and Professor Worcester, of the University of Saskatchewan, was assigned to the problem. He discovered a proper mixture of clays, with the result that the plant is now making money, has enlarged its buildings and added to its equipment, and is today supplying a large proportion of certain types of fire brick and locomotive arch tiles used in Western Canada but which formerly had to be imported from the United States.

Scientific research has great things in store for a country like Canada. It costs time and money to prosecute it intensively, but it will repay a hundredfold. The Canadian people should not regard it as a hobby or a pastime, but a sound business proposition, and be prepared to support their Government and scientific bodies in largely extending the scope of such research.

Normal Period Of Married Life

Insurance Statisticians Have Worked Out Rule

Insurance statisticians, after months of research, have worked out to one decimal point the period which newly married couples may expect to live together—leaving out the possibility of divorce, that becoming a major factor.

It was announced recently that a man of 33 and a woman of 30 may expect to live together 27.3 years before death, in the normal course, separates them.

A woman's expectation of life at 30 is 34.3 years; this is a factor of 35 to 34.4 years. This typical couple in 53.6 per cent. of cases, it is asserted, will live beyond the 27.3 average before one of them dies; in 7 per cent. of cases, both will be dead before that time; in 15.5 the wife will have died, and in 23.6 the husband will have died.

Would Fly Across Atlantic

American Woman Aviator Hopes To Be First Of Her Sex To Make Non-Stop Flight

Miss Agnes Mills, 23 years old, well known throughout the south as a stunt flier, announced recently that she is planning a non-stop trans-Atlantic flight.

Miss Mills hopes to be the first woman to span the Atlantic in a solo flight. It is her intention to make the flight alone, she said.

Her home is in Tampa and she was the first woman to receive a pilot's license in the state of Florida. She recently discussed plans for the flight with Clarence Chamberlain, who flew from Roosevelt Field to Germany.

The vessel is a pure killer, destroying more animals than it can consume.

Western Canada Fisheries

Opening Of H.R. Road Will Extend Fishing Grounds In the North

With the opening of the Hudson Bay Railway next year, new areas will be opened up in Northern Manitoba, and Saskatchewan not only rich in minerals but in fish. There are numerous lakes and waterways adjacent to the new railway which will enable commercial fishing operations to be extended. Millions of pounds of fish are caught in the large inland lakes in Western Canada, much of which is shipped to Chicago and New York, as well as to markets in Canada. The principal fish in these lakes are whitefish, sturgeon, trout, pickerel and tullad.

RADIANT GIRHOOD

Comes Through Rich, Red Health-Giving Blood

A girl with a full-blooded body and vital nerves has the foundation of active, healthy life. Allow her to grow and develop and prolonged health and general well-being will be the result. Many women who ought to be in the very prime of life are frequently afflicted with aches, back and side aches, easily tired and breathless, because of anemia which stealthily attacked them in girlhood.

But fortunately there is a remedy which may reach thousands of tired, worn-out women and delicate girls who have sought the self-help of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are grateful for the way in which these pills have restored them to robust fitness. This effective tonic and nerve restorer always helps to make plenty of red, rich blood that speeds up the system.

Color comes to her cheeks and lips; her appetite increases, her nerves are steadied and she becomes vital and active again. Among thousands of women who have done so can do Miss C. J. Martin, Kitchener, Ont. says: "For several years I have been afflicted with pains in the back and sick headaches. I had tried all the time, did not get much relief. My sister advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking six boxes I feel like a new person, and will not be troubled with the pains again. You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Long Standing Asthma

Many have suffered so long from asthma and have tried so many so-called remedies that they think there is no real help for them. They should read the letters received by the manufacturers of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy from hundreds of cases once as desperate as their own. Even in long-neglected cases this famous preparation brings prompt help.

STEWED CELERY

Scrape some fine, delicate, white stalks of celery, wash repeatedly so that no sand adheres, and after cutting them into even three-inch pieces, cook for several minutes in boiling water and pour into a strainer. Then stew the pieces of celery for 20 minutes with half teaspoon butter or chicken fat, half teaspoon sugar, some pepper and beef broth. Dust some flour over, and cook until done with half cupful of cream.

Would Be Great Boon

German Claims Invention Of Pillow That Prevents Snoring

The Hamilton Spectator says that a German has invented a pillow that prevents snoring. That should be good news for long suffering wives who have been afflicted with snoring husbands. Men, of course, have never been troubled by wives who snore, because women do not snore, they say.

How easily it will solve the eternal puzzle of what to give him for Christmas. If it is more blessed to give than to receive, how good will the gift of one of these pillows not make the wife feel.

But just how the receiver of such a gift, bearing with it, as it does, the gentle hint that it is a very appropriate gift, will react under it is a horse of another color. Because we have never met a man who admitted that he snored, not even one who was even guilty of murmuring in his sleep.

And now, if that inventor can produce a pillow that will stop children snoring in their sleep, or from crying out in the night, from any cause whatsoever, what a quiet place home will be after the family gets to bed.

Attacked By Grizzly Bear

Trapper In B.C. Owes His Life To His Faithful Dog

Charged by an infuriated grizzly bear, the largest ever seen in the Barkerville country, Hans Iversen, trapper and big game guide of Indian Point Creek, Barkerville, B.C., owes his life to his police dog, which held him in the act of making the dead moose into a cake, covering it with earth, moss and debris.

The day previously Iversen had killed a moose. Returning to take home the carcass he found a huge grizzly in the act of making the dead moose into a cake, covering it with earth, moss and debris.

Before the trapper had time to unloading his rifle the grizzly was charging down upon him. He hastily attempted to throw a cartridge into the chamber, but the rifle jammed and Iversen found himself at the mercy of the beast. "It was then that his dog took the offensive, holding the bear occupied until Iversen could get his rifle in working order and killed his animal."

Navigation At Churchill

Port Open To Ocean Vessels Till Late In November

Ocean vessels would have no difficulty in using the port of Churchill until the latter part of November, according to J. U. Beauchemin, head of the party doing hydrographic survey work at Fort Churchill harbor and on Hudson Bay. There would doubtless be a little shore ice in the harbor in November, but he says that there would be no danger of a vessel becoming ice bound until late in the month.

Mr. Beauchemin and his party have just returned to Sydney from the Hudson Bay. It is not clear from his interview that he was including in his statement any reference to Hudson Strait. But he does contradict the report brought down from Hudson Strait by the airman on the Unta Bowler, which was wrecked up there, that the government steamer Acadia, which carried the hydrographic survey, was stuck in the ice for seven days. The vessel remained in the ice only for 30 hours, he says, and it did so purposely for the study of ice conditions, while it could have moved out of the ice field at any time.

It is easy to exaggerate the difficulties of the northern route. There are some difficulties and of meeting them will be used. If, as is quite possible, the Hudson Strait is navigable well into November, then a route will be in quite as good a position to handle the western grain crop in the fall of the year as is the route by the Great Lakes. The port of Montreal usually closes before the end of November and it takes the grain much longer to get to Montreal than to Churchill.

Traffic on the Hudson Bay route will be in a modest way at first with the overcoming of the various difficulties a great expansion of traffic and a great future for the route may be expected.—Free Press.

Prince and His Brothers Are Keen About Aviation

The fact that the Prince of Wales has appointed a regular air pilot among his retinue draws renewed attention to the remarkable keenness shown by the Prince for flying. It is some years since he went for his first flight, but ever since that memorable occasion he has exhibited extreme air-mindedness.

Such attention has been given to the air pilots of the Prince of Wales, however, that most people are unaware that one of his brothers has long been a fully-fledged pilot. The Duke of York is a group captain in the Royal Air Force, and, as such, understands the exact control of an aeroplane. He is also air-de-camp to his father, the King, says a writer in "The Daily Express," London, England.

The Duke of Gloucester made his first flight recently, while Prince George has flown on several occasions, although not in a small machine. He has made two cross-Channel trips in an Imperial Airways limousine, travelling imperially and accompanied by an equerry.

With all his sons "in the air," the King may yet consider taking a trip himself, but, one feels sure, there will always have to be a satisfactory settlement of two matters before this can take place. First, without a doubt he will be accompanied by the Queen, and second, he will fly only if his subjects are absolutely certain of the safety of the flight.

PAINTS A VIVID WORD PICTURE OF NORTHLAND

Toronto.—A vivid word picture of Canada's new northwest development and a vision of great strides in transportation by air, land and sea that would centre about Churchill in northern Manitoba, marked the address of John W. Dufre, managing editor and vice-president of the Manitoba Free Press, before the Empire Club here.

Speaking at the club luncheon at the Royal York Hotel, Mr. Dufre told of new developments in Canadian transportation through the utilization of the northwest passage. With Churchill as the terminus of the new water route, a saving in freight rates and distance would be effected and the bonds of empire more closely drawn together.

With the growth of the great northern artery stretching westward to the Pacific as new discoveries in air transportation rapidly follow one another, he foresaw a net work of air lanes leading to Europe and Asia with Churchill as the greatest junction point on the North American continent. "As direct results of this new water route," Mr. Dufre envisioned mighty shipments of grain moving through the northwest passage to the old world and return cargoes of Welsh anthracite coal that would find ready markets 500 miles from Hudson Bay and would eliminate importation of Pennsylvania anthracite.

Resumption of Canada's cattle trade with Great Britain, he stated may be brought about by the new route, where there would be a saving of 1,200 miles as against the Montreal route. "We have lost our cattle trade with Great Britain," he said, "and we may be shut out of the United States."

All importations into western Canada, he pointed out, could come via the new route to the carrying capacity of that route during the summer. The Great development also be effected in the Peace River district, which will be nearer Liverpool by the new route than via the Pacific.

Named For Cattle Judging

Three Farm Boys To Represent Canada In Great Britain

Toronto.—Three young farm lads, holding high aggregate scores in the cattle club contests of the Canadian National Railways at the Royal Winter Fair, have been selected to represent Canada next summer in the international cattle judging contest to be held in Great Britain in which they will contest from teams all over Britain and from the United States.

British Cadets Coming

Will Attend Annual Meet In 1930 Of Canada Rifle Association

Ottawa.—Cadets contingents from Great Britain will attend the annual shoots in 1930 of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association and the Ontario Rifle Association, it was announced in a letter received by the Department of National Defence from Surgeon-Captain R. ### Overmy British Barracks

Good Market For Wheat

Britain Will Purchase Grain Stored In Canada Says Export

Toronto.—"In light of my experience in England and from reports I have received concerning the wheat supply in other countries, I see no reason why the millions of bushels of Canadian wheat at present in storage should not be sold at satisfactory prices before next year's yield," said W. A. Wilson, Canadian agricultural representative in London, England, upon his arrival here from the Old Country.

With an intimate knowledge of the wheat situation, Mr. Wilson did not hesitate to say that in his opinion the time had come when Canadian wheat, at present filling the giant elevators at different points throughout the West would move toward the great British market.

The Canadian agricultural representative declared that statistics he had been able to gather on the wheat supply throughout the world all pointed toward big purchases of Canadian wheat before the 1930 crop.

Royal College Of Physicians

Ottawa.—The Royal Canadian College of Physicians and Surgeons came into being when 60 leading figures in Canadian medicine met here. Toronto was chosen as the headquarters of the college.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Dr. John C. Mackinnon, Montreal; vice-presidents, Dr. P. N. O. Stansfield and Dr. Duncan Graham, both of Toronto; registrar, Dr. J. C. Routley, Toronto.

The original charter follows as designated in the act of parliament establishing the college: "The college shall be a body corporate and shall have the right to make laws for the regulation of the medical profession in Canada. About 60 of these were present and were sworn in.

Heavy Air Mail

Thousands Of Letters Are Awaiting Opening Of Northern Service

Edmonton.—Over hundred thousand letters are at the central post office in readiness for the opening of air mail service to the north country. It was estimated by F. X. J. Leger, superintendent of the Edmonton post office, a few days ago, that the peak has not been reached yet as more first flight letters are being received here daily.

Three machines will in all likelihood be required for opening the service. Two of these would be extra aeroplanes for handling the large volume of letters sent here by first flight cover collectors.

Nine delivery planes have been settled as yet in regard to the date of opening the northern service, as this will start just as soon as there is sufficient ice on the rivers for the machines to land on.

Wolves Invade Moscow

London, England.—An invasion of hordes of wolves in the crowded suburbs of Moscow was described in a Daily News dispatch from the Soviet capital. The dispatch says that the wolves had attacked adults and children and had devoured two small children. Moscow's suburbs recently have been overcrowded with peasants who have set up temporary homes while awaiting permission to migrate to Canada.

Sale Of Coal Discussed

London, England.—Right Hon. J. H. These had raised a number of questions which would require careful consideration and consequently he could make no further statement at present.

Would Shorten Working Hours

Winnipeg.—The Dominion was requested in a resolution sent by Mayor Dan McLean, to take under consideration a plan to shorten the hours of working men in Canada. ## Would Retain Plant

Moose Jaw, Sask.—Recommendation that the Moose Jaw power plant be retained as a municipally-owned utility and opposition to its sale to private interests, was voiced in the report to the Trades and Labor Council by a special committee. The report was adopted.

PROBLEM FOR LEAGUE CREATED BY MENNONITES

Ottawa, Ont.—Cable advice received from Geneva, Berlin and Warsaw indicate clearly that the exodus of refugee Mennonites from the Soviet republic rapidly is assuming greater proportions and that while there has been no suggestion that Canada should consider taking more than 5,000 of them, the number that will have to find new homes somewhere in the world may reach the staggering total of 100,000 persons.

The 5,000 Mennonites who gathered in the environs of Warsaw a few weeks ago and concerning whom the Canadian government was approached by the German foreign office, appear now to have been but the advance guard of a constantly swelling stream of Mennonites. It is claimed that the entire Mennonite population of Russia, which has been increasing steadily for 150 years a pace the great Russian empire offered the sect sanctuary from religious persecution, will leave the republic within a few months upward of 100,000 Mennonite refugees will have left Russia and will be facing starvation unless rescued by the League of Nations or the governments of Europe.

Hon. F. Nansen, the head of the refugee commission of the League of Nations, has communicated by cable with the Canadian government. He has stated that the League will intervene in aid of the homeless Mennonites and he is confident that food and shelter can be provided in Europe and at the expense of the League until next spring.

This appears to remove any immediate danger of these people dying of exposure or starvation.

From what can be learned here, the Mennonites are not leaving Russia because of religious persecution, but because they claim that they have been reduced from a wealthy and thriving community to starvation by the exactions of the Soviet government. Their accumulated savings in money have been confiscated and the crops, each year, have been taken from them. They claim that there was no alternative except to stay in Russia and starve or to throw themselves upon the mercy of Europe, and hope for assistance to establish homes for themselves in the western world.

As far as the immigration department here is concerned, the answer of Premier Adger to Bishop Towns is taken as being opposed to the movement of any Mennonites into Saskatchewan other than relatives of those in the province. Negotiations are under way with Manitoba and Alberta. Unless these provinces are willing to accept the Mennonites, the Dominion will decline to permit them to come.

It is felt that the League of Nations will carry the refugees over until spring and that there is plenty of time to consider very carefully the question of policy involved in bringing them to Canada.

Two Noted Authors III

Conan Doyle and Kipling Unable To Fill Engagements

London, England.—Two of Great Britain's best known authors—Rudyard Kipling and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle—are in poor health.

To Aid In Industrial Development

The rapid development in power projects and other engineering works at widely separated points throughout the country has created a demand for rolling stock capable of handling unusually heavy and bulky shipments such as transformers, pistons, etc.

In order to take care of business of this kind, the Canadian Pacific Railway recently put into service two depressed center all steel flat cars which were designed by the Mechanical Department and built at the Angus Shops.

These cars are 53 feet 9 inches long inside the coupled knuckles. The center portion is depressed so that the height from the rail to the top of the deck is 2 feet 4 inches, and the portion which is available for loading is 22 feet 7 inches long.

The weight is 89,700 lbs., and they will carry a load of 225,800 lbs. Six wheel trucks with roller steel wheels are used.

Ross Smyth, 22-year-old student of McGill University, Montreal, who is the wireless operator on the Fort James, who flashed back to civilization the news that the missing MacAlpine party was safe.

Alberta Election Rumor

Premier Brownlee Says Question Of Election Next Year Has Not Been Discussed

Edmonton.—Asked about the probability of the Alberta general election being held in June of next year, as rumored in Calgary, Premier Brownlee replied that "we need to have matters of this sort decided for the government without its having to deal with them at all."

The premier had no further comment to make, except to say that the question has not yet been discussed by the government in any way.

The former government in Alberta if it rides out its full term, need not go to the polls again until 1931, but Calgary rumor has it that it will do so next year.

Rob Quebec Bank

Makes Definite Change Against Communists

Cause Of Unrest In Africa Says Minister Of Justice

Fredericton, N.S.—The definite charge that the activities of the Communist Internationale are behind the widespread unrest among natives in the Union of South Africa, was made in the course of a long address by Hon. Oswald Prewer, Minister of Justice.

Numerous organizations, close allied with or at least in close touch with the Third Internationale, are responsible, the minister stated, for fanning the unrest which came to a head at Durban recently, when the government was forced to raid the native compounds and arrest 600 out of 5,000 natives who had refused to pay the poll taxes.

The minister also declared that unless the danger was checked strongly by the police, rioting on a large scale would be suffered within 12 to 18 months time.

Earthquake Shakes Limer

Vessel, 640 Miles Out At Sea, Receives Vibrations From Shore

New York.—The earthquake which was felt along the coast from New York to Halifax, recently, also shook the liner "Thymic," 640 miles out at sea, from Alaska to stern, her commander reported on arrival here from Southampton and Cherbourg.

It provided an alarming experience for the officers of the "Thymic," for they did not know what had happened. They were afraid she had hit a submerged wreck and perhaps damaged her hull.

The vibration was so severe, he said, that it shook out the electric lights in the main room. Stewards and passengers rushed to the promenade deck to find out what had happened.

PREPARE PLANS FOR 1932 GRAIN SHOW AT REGINA

Toronto.—Laying their plans for the future, when the world's grain exhibition and conference will be held in Regina, Sask., July 25 to August 6, 1932, the executive and finance committees met here recently.

Under the chairmanship of Hon. W. C. Buckle, Minister of Agriculture for Saskatchewan, the committee held a brief general discussion and announced several appointments of men who will aid in carrying out the extensive program. The grain conference, the first of its kind undertaken by Canada, bids fair to eclipse any other grain exhibition of an international character.

Announcement was made recently that the appointment of judges for the exhibition will be along international lines.

The total prize list, official announcement of which will shortly be made, provides for all classes, an amount of $201,500. Of this amount $15,000 will be allotted to the hardy young wheat chaffers, with $2,500 the first place award.

Appointment was made recently of Dr. J. H. Grisdale, deputy minister of agriculture for Canada, as chairman of the agriculture program. Dr. Grisdale will name his own committee, which will attend to the securing of speakers, who will present papers at the conference.

F. H. Auld, deputy minister of agriculture for Saskatchewan, was appointed chairman of the exhibits committee, and L. H. Newman, Dominion cerealist, was named chairman of the awards committee.

Ernest Rhodes, B.S.A., of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, secretary of the 1927 world's poultry congress, was appointed secretary. The position during the earlier organization was held by E. T. Eldersheim, manager of the exhibition, who now becomes a member of the executive.

S. Latta, former Minister of Education for Saskatchewan, was named publicity director.

His Excellency, Lord Willingdon, Governor-General of Canada, has consented to act as chief patron.

The personnel of the executive and finance committees is: Hon. W. C. Buckle, Minister of Agriculture for Saskatchewan; chairman; Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Dominion Minister of Agriculture; Hon. A. P. Prentiss, Minister of Agriculture for Manitoba; C. H. Hamilton, Dominion Grain Commissioner and former Minister of Agriculture for Saskatchewan; Dr. J. H. Grisdale, Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Canada; F. H. Auld, Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Saskatchewan; A. E. Whitmore, Regina; D. T. Eldersheim, Regina; W. Yule, Regina; J. A. Mooney, Regina, and Ernest Rhodes, secretary.

RECEIVE WORD OF SAFETY OF MACALPINE PARTY

Winnipeg.—A lone ace of northland flyers made a treacherous 300-mile flight to Fort Resolution, on Great Slave Lake, in the Northwest Territories, bringing the first word of the MacAlpine explorers to have been received in ten days.

Alone Andy Cruickshank, pilot in the aerial relayer expedition, under the command of Captain Guy S. Blanchet, arrived at Fort Resolution and reported Colonel C. D. H. MacAlpine and his party safe at Fort Reliance on McLeod Bay, where they have been land-bound since Tuesday, November 12.

Without means of communication with the outside world, Cruickshank undertook the dangerous mission from Fort Reliance to ascertain landing conditions and to report the party's safe arrival at Reliance.

Radio reports received by the relief pilot were not assuring. To the south of Fort Resolution, along the 1,000-mile aerial trail to the Pas landing conditions are not favorable for the big ski-runners' planes of the Blanchet patrol, which is returning from the west. The Pas has gasoline and food supply base, until there is a big improvement.

Rescued from Cambridge Bay, Hudson's Bay Post on Victoria Island, where they had been stranded by Ekimko hordes after long weeks of wandering on the barren lands, the MacAlpine men were returned to Bathurst Inlet, radio post of the Dominion Explorers, by Captain Blanchet and his aviators. Ten days ago a start was made from Bathurst and within a few hours Fort Reliance was reached, after a flight of 400 miles. Since then, the MacAlpine party has been at Fort Reliance has held them landbound.

Once at Resolution the next hop on the southward flight will be one of 400 miles to Stoney Rapids. From there the party will fly to Cranberry Point, then to The Pas.

At Resolution the Canadian corps of signals maintains a station and it was from this point Cruickshank's arrival was flashed.
